

The Great Adventure of Change

Objectives:

Focused on reflecting, developing and adopting a positive and efficient attitude to change in a generic way, but deepening in the different key aspects of change management and leadership, divergent thinking and innovation to provide value. We work on all these key factors in order to evolve personally and professionally in line with the objectives of each individual and those of the teams and the organization in which we work.

“The antidote to the fear of change and uncertainty is curiosity”

“In this world there is no stability or security, there are opportunities”

Program:

Real experiences lived by Albert in the extreme adventures and in his business experience will be combined with conceptual reflections extracted from each example, carrying out practical and dynamic activities on each topic, to end up having some practical and applicable concepts and methodology for each assistant.

1. Attitude in front of change. Efficiency in uncertain, complex, uncomfortable and changing environments and times.
2. Managing uncertainty and developing new capacities.
3. Establish objectives and risk management.
4. Change to create value.
5. Communication on change.
6. Strength of change, connection to personal and team/organizational purpose.
